PUBLISHER'S NOTE

Dear Reader,

It's time for one of the biggest shows of travel trade - WTM London. When you will bring November issue of T3FS you will get to know about various travel destination. Since time immemorial, architecture and monuments have given India her identity. From historical Ajanta & Ellora caves to Delwara Temple of Mount Abu and from Taj Mahal to Meenakshi Temple of Madurai, Indian architecture showcases its elegance and superiority across the globe.

The most prolific creation in recent times, the Statue of Unity, is the World's Tallest Monument (182 meter). It represents more than a colossal structure facing the Sardar Sarovar Dam on the river Narmada. It is an iconic symbol of the 'Iron Man', who played an important role during India's freedom struggle and thereafter in the unification of the princely states. It reminds the world of the towering personality of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the nucleus of India's integration as a united country.

It was the wit and whip of this 'Iron Man' that 562 small and big princely states unanimously agreed to become an integral part of India. The elucidation of the Statue directly correlates with the meaning and value of unity. While, it is one of the finest interpretations of the designers with its modern construal, it also symbolises and describes the quintessence of the statue to visitors. The world's tallest statue is an engineering marvel that was constructed in merely 46 months.

The ocean of white sand stands out stark and pristine in its

On moonlit nights, the desert reveals another colour.

Which colour of Kutch will catch your eye?
Maybe one that I couldn't find!

Elaa Launches a New Tech Platform

Elaa, the travel management company of Seera, Saudi Arabia's largest travel services provider, has sustained its market leadership in the Corporate & Government (C&G) travel sector of the Kingdom, clinching over 25 per cent market share and securing more than SAR 3 billion in annual gross revenue. Elaa has also built a growing portfolio of clients, now at over 300, representing leading business groups and government entities.

Seera's travel management company was recently rebranded as Ela, meaning

'trusted advisor' in Arabic, to underline the unique value proposition that it delivers to clients through bespoke service delivery. Ela also offers dedicated cargo solutions, complementing the needs of the C&G sector, which also contributes to the sustained growth of the business division.

To further strengthen its operations, Ela has launched Rehlati, an electronic travel order platform offering a state-of-the-art digital booking system for government entities. Since its soft launch in December 2018, Rehlati has won over several government entities as its clients, serving more than 300,000 employees, who benefit significantly through the platform.

Set to revolutionise C&G travel solutions, Rehlati brings together a team of local experts at Ela and C&G travel advisors to simplify government travel arrangements. It will replace the time-consuming process of travel bookings for government entities and companies in Saudi Arabia, which is totally dependent on manual work, written sign off, and physical documentation.

Lufthansa City Center Releases a Whitepaper on NDC

With the new IATA standard NDC, the airline association IATA and its partners have agreed on a communication protocol that will allow travel agents and corporate customers to sell flights in a way that was previously only possible on airline websites. So everything positive? In fact, it is good and right for travel distribution when the latest technological opportunities are opened in a technology-driven present.

This is where the whitepaper comes in. It is designed to help the travel agents to organise the new world of distribution, develop a better understanding of it, gain new perspectives and efficiently implement distribution in daily business activities. In a networked and digital world, modern programme interfaces allow us to offer new means of customer-orientated services. Bridge-IT lays the groundwork to enable the travel agents to make these offers.

Those wanting to become more competitive travel agencies in the future must grapple with the field of NDC. However, a distribution standard alone does not make a successful distribution. As a technical pioneer, Lufthansa City Center has developed Bridge-IT, a multi-source capable platform that already bundles various distribution channels such as GDS, NDC and low-cost carrier interfaces. Bridge-IT provides the opportunity to enter the new world of distribution from day one and start setting the course for successful future services.

Shri Narendra Modi,
Prime Minister, India

India has got a rich cultural heritage of “Unity in Diversity”, the roots of which are inextricably founded on the principle of “Vasudhaiv Kutumbakam”, meaning that the entire universe is a family.

At the time of India’s independence in 1947, it was however divided into more than 560 princely states and it was India’s first Deputy Prime Minister, Bharat Ratna Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, who with his firm determination could transform such imperialism into today’s unified India. People of India will remain indebted to him forever for his leadership during the freedom struggle and his vision, wisdom and statesmanship in the post-independence era. His life is an eternal source of inspiration for the present as well as future generations and it is in this context that his iconic monumental statue – the world’s tallest Statue of Unity has been dedicated to the Nation on the 143rd Birth Anniversary.

Symbolizing the national, spiritual, historical and academic values, the Statue of Unity will lead to the icon-based development of this entire region, which is predominantly a tribal area. Our vision is to make this place a world class tourist destination by providing infrastructure for edutainment, research, cultural, environmental enrichment and health promotion. A true leader keeps on enlightening the path of mankind even in his physical absence and the Statue of Unity is the realization of this – worth experiencing.

World’s tallest statue

Since time immemorial, architecture and monuments have given India her identity. From historical Ajanta & Ellora caves to Delwara Temple of Mount Abu and from Taj Mahal to Meenakshi Temple of Madurai, Indian architecture showcases its elegance and superiority across the globe.

The most prolific creation in recent times, the Statue of Unity, is the World’s Tallest Monument (182 meter). It represents more than a colossal structure facing the Sardar Sarovar Dam on the river Narmada. It is an iconic symbol of the ‘Iron Man’, who played an important role during India’s freedom struggle and thereafter in the unification of the princely states. It reminds the world of the towering personality of Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, the nucleus of India’s integration as a united country.

It was the wit and whip of this ‘Iron Man’ that 562 small and big princely states unanimously agreed to become an integral part of India. The elucidation of the Statue directly correlates with the meaning and value of unity. While, it is one of the finest interpretations of the designers with its modern construal, it also symbolises and describes the quintessence of the statue to visitors. The world’s tallest statue is an engineering marvel that was constructed in merely 46 months.

Sardar Patel, respected for his commitment and drive, took up the challenge of convincing all the princely states using diplomacy and peaceful means, or the iron hand when needed.

The impressive landmark commemorating Sardar Patel’s contribution to unification dovetails into several social development programmes such as improved transport and connectivity, institutions of research, education and tribal development, tourist facilities and other social infrastructure.

Attractions

Museum and Wall of Unity

The Statue of Unity is the world’s tallest statue with a height of 182 metres.

A huge exhibition hall covering an area of 4,647 square metres has been set up in the pedestal of the Statue of Unity. The hall showcases the life of Sardar Patel, his contributions to the Freedom Movement against British rule and his role in the merger of princely states. The Shoolpaneshwar Wildlife Sanctuary, the life and culture of the tribal people of Gujarat and the Sardar Sarovar Dam are also displayed through an Audio-Visual show.

A nation-wide campaign was initiated to collect soil from farmers towards this tribute to the extraordinary leader of India, who was born in a farmer’s family and had led several successful campaigns for farmers’ rights during India’s freedom struggle. Soil from around 169,058 villages was collected to build a wall (Wall of Unity, measuring 36 feet x 12 feet) which symbolises unity in diversity.

Laser Light and Sound Show

There are five unique creations at the valley in the form of thematic parks-gardens namely: Garden of Senses & Panchatattva Garden, Green Energy & Upcycling Park, Sardar Park, Butterfly Garden and Adventure Park.

Besides the parks, several photo booths and selfie points have been developed to take back memories of the visit. Two beautifully located lotus ponds enhance the visitor experience.

Sardar Sarovar Dam

In terms of volume of concrete involved for gravity dams, this dam is ranked as the second largest in the world with an aggregate volume of 6.82 million cubic metre; only after Grand Coulee Dam in the USA with a total volume of 8.0 million cubic metre being the largest. This dam, with its spillway discharging capacity of 85,000 cubic metre per second (3 million cubic foot per second), stands third in the world, Gazenba (113,000 cubic metre per second) in China and Tucurri (100,000 cubic metre per second) in Brazil being the first two.

The reservoir occupies an area of 37,000 hectares and has linear stretch of 214 kilometre of water and an average width of 1.77 kilometre. The Full Reservoir Level (FRL) of the Sardar Sarovar Dam is fixed at RL 138.68 metres (455 feet).

Boating

Narmada, the largest west flowing river of the Peninsula, rises near Amarkantak range of mountains in Madhya Pradesh and flows into the Arabian Sea.

Visitors can enjoy a boat ride at a specially designated spot on the upstream of the dam on River Narmada. The one hour boat ride takes the visitors right up to the border of Maharashtra.

Helicopter Ride

Visitors can enjoy the full splendour of the Statue of Unity by a helicopter ride. This joy ride of 10 minutes is truly exhilarating and gives a panoramic aerial view of the scenic mountain ranges, Sardar Sarovar Dam and the valleys around the Statue of Unity.

The helipad built for this ride is managed by Heritage Aviation.

Shoolpaneshwar Wildlife Sanctuary

Shoolpaneshwar Wildlife Sanctuary is spread over an area of 607.70 square kilometre. It includes a major watershed feeding two major reservoirs with the Rajpipla hills as a backdrop. The thick vegetative ground cover not only provides endless greenery but also a huge habitat to a variety of life forms. The sanctuary derives its name 'Shoolpaneshwar' from the historic temple of Lord Shiva, which once existed in this region on the banks of river Narmada.

Trekking in Zarvani Eco-

Tourism Area

Night Trekking, an exciting activity for visitors of the Statue of Unity, offers an opportunity to be closer to nature and experience the creatures of the dark in the wooded environs of Kevadia. Join the hands of Forest Department to patrol the forest in the night hours, on foot!

Gifted with some of the most beautiful scenery of the jungle at the confluence of Vindhyachal and Satpuda ranges and nurtured by the holy waters of Narmada, this forest embodies the monsoon grandeur of the Shoolpaneshwar Wildlife Sanctuary.

Handicraft

Kutch is considered to be a haven for numerous handicrafts, which are carried on from generation to generation. The traditional basis of its prosperity has been its foreign trade in various handicrafts. The artifacts of Kutch moved not only the length and breadth of the country but also in the overseas market. The main handicrafts of the district are embroidery of ethnic style, Patchwork, terracotta, pen knives and nut crackers. A brief description of the various crafts is as follows.

Embroidery

Inherited by the bequest of craft making the Kutchi people weave their dreams in different forms of embroidery. Kutch is world renowned for its mirrored embroideries. Most of these were traditionally stitched by village women, for themselves and their families, to create festivity, honor deities, or generate wealth. Embroideries contributed to the substantial economic exchange required for marriage and fulfilled other social obligations which required gifts. Be it, thread work or leather every village has a different and a unique style of making embroidery.

Hand Block Printing

Kutch is the homeland of a variety of hand printing textiles. Important among them are Ajrakh prints, Batik prints and Rogan painting.

Wood Carving

They make various utensils like pastel roller, chapati disc, bottles, small table, glass etc. of the wood doing attractive carving. Then the pieces are worked by using a forging machine

Iron Bell with Copper Coating

Without modern Communications the sound of bells helped shepherds and cowherds communities to locate their flocks from a distance. Waste iron sheets are bought from Bhuj market. Outlines are marked on the sheets using master patterns (there are about 13 patterns ranging from 3" X 12/ 8". Following the mark the sheet is cut. Then it is converted to the shape of bell with punching tools. Designs are worked out before shaping it. The handle is fixed. Later copper (tamba) brass (pital) and tankankar in the form of small bits and powder is sprinkled on the bell immersed in mud water. Then clay is mixed with cotton which serves as a mould. Then the mould is placed on a coal fire with the bell and the temperature is increased to fuse the metal. Later near to its mouth the bell is beaten with hammer to obtain the desired sound. Bells have an unusual resonant sound due to the individual tuning of each bell. Finally a tongue made of wood is fixed from inside. Kutchi bells are moving very well in the foreign market as church bells.

Seashell Toys

Seashell toys and dolls are made in Bhuj. Seashell is the outer case of soft bodied animals called molluscs. After the animals living inside have dried up, the shells are collected and graded according to colour and shape and used in decorative items. Birds, animals, plants, agarbati stand and figures of Gods & Goddesses are prepared by joining the appropriate coloured shells with an adhesive. Later eyes, nose, ears, garments etc are painted with oil paints.

Wildlife

The Little Rann of Kutch, which covers an area of roughly 5,000 square km, is primarily known as the Indian Wild Ass Sanctuary. The sanctuary was established in 1972 as the last natural habitat of the Indian Wild Ass (Equus Hemionus Khur). One of the three surviving species of the Wild Ass in the world-the other two being found in Central Asia and in and around Tibet-the Khur is high on the list of endangered species. Only 1,800 to 2,000 of the species survive today.

Besides the Wild Ass, the sanctuary is home to a host of other animals and nearly 350 different species of birds, including the common crane, pelican and the lesser flamingo. Apart from this, one can also get a rare insight into the lifestyles of the numerous ethnic groups and local tribes, which live in and around the Rann. The tribes living in the region are the Kolis, Rabaris, Bajanias, Kutchis, Gujjars and the Bharvads. Interestingly, the Little Rann gets a fair number of winged visitors in the winter months. Among these, the blue-tailed bee-eater that comes all the way from Europe; the common crane and the demoiselle crane from Siberia; the ceraneous vulture from Egypt and the houbara bustard from Iran and Iraq are the ones most commonly sighted.

Zinjuwada, bang on the edge of the Rann, has an old, 11th century fort built during the Solanki era and houses one of the area's largest salt works.

Zainabad, 150 km off Ahmedabad, is the ideal base for a trip into the sanctuary. Zainabad had been founded in the early part of this century. The ruling family of this place came here from Multan around the mid-13th century to settle down in Dasada. It was only around 1912 that the capital was shifted to a village called Karala, which was later renamed Zainabad.

Global Gender Summit 2019

The Global Gender Summit 2019, scheduled to be held in Kigali, Rwanda from 25 to 27 November, 2019 is expected to attract more than 800 delegates including Heads of State, First Ladies, and Heads of Government who will all share best practices and catalyze investments to accelerate progress on gender equality and women empowerment in Africa and around the world.

Earlier this year, Angel Kayitesi, a final year student of Hospitality Management at the Akilah Institute for Women, made history by registering her Company, Master Travel Ltd, which has been set up by seven girls, who are all still students at present.

The Global Gender Summit, co-hosted by the African Development Bank and the Ministry of Gender and Family Promotion, Republic of Rwanda, is being held for the first time in Africa.

Vanessa Mounzar, Director for Gender, Women and Civil Society at the African Development Bank, remarked:

"We will be launching a number of initiatives to dramatically transform the landscape of access to finance in Africa and to unlock the $ 42 billion financing gap women are facing here."

Amb. Soline Nyirahabimana, Minister of Gender and Family Promotion, explained that 25 years ago, immediately after the Genocide against the Tutsi, Rwanda started abolishing all discriminatory laws against women.

Mounzar explained that Rwanda has a very strong track record when it comes to gender equality and empowering its women, adding that the country well deserved to receive the Global Gender Summit.

Foodie Passion Tribe in India

For most Indians, food is an essential part of their travel. They believe in the power of food to connect with the local culture and make it a point to sample the destination's local fare. In a survey (Meet India's Passionistas), commissioned earlier this year by the Singapore Tourism Board across 14 Indian cities, it was noticed that most people picked the option of sampling local food at a foreign destination over options like exploring the nightlife, going shopping, trying out adventurous activities, discovering the destination and checking out the art and culture of the place.

Singapore has always been regarded as a paradise for foodies given its diverse culinary offerings which suit every palate. The city's local street fare is a delicious melting pot of Singapore's diverse cultures, while the country's vibrant fine dining scene has emerged as one of the world's most exciting, featuring many celebrity chef restaurants.

The Singapore Tourism Board (STB) launched its unified brand campaign 'Passion Made Possible' in 2017, and introduced the concept of "Passion Tribes", which groups visitors based on their lifestyles, interests and what they travel for. "Foodies" delight in food, cooking and dining and want to experience flavours in new ways. The STB will be focusing on this passion tribe to engage Indian travellers in the coming months. A series of activations – food video content, on-ground events and exciting collaborations - have been planned for this tribe to entice them over to Singapore.

Finland: A Versatile Tourist Destination

From the incredible scattering of islands in Europe's largest archipelago to the hilly countryside of Finnish Lapland, the landscape of Finland is a pristine paradise for nature lovers.

• Babita Sharma

Finland is a country full of extremes with four beautiful seasons and four distinct regions that include the Helsinki capital region, Lapland, Lakeland and the Archipelago. Finland is a year-round destination where you can enjoy anything from a weekend city break to a longer stay in a ski resort or a cozy cottage. The things that make Finland special are closely related to nature and well-being. There is also a great, up-and-coming urban scene that beats to a drum of its own.

Helsinki

Helsinki, the capital of Finland, is a vibrant seaside city of beautiful islands and great green parks.

Finland's capital, Helsinki, together with its neighbouring cities of Espoo and Vantaa, is the biggest urban concentration in the country, with a combined population of about a million. Located within the Helsinki region are also the historical cities of Porvoo and Tuusula.

Helsinki is a compact city easily explored on foot. Design, architecture, culture and shopping are all great exploration angles and large park areas, forests, lakes, and the coastline with numerous islands sprinkled off it make certain there's no shortage of natural presence.

Near to Helsinki are the cities of Espoo and Vantaa. Espoo is the second largest city in Finland population-wise and it provides many interesting sights and activities from museums and shopping to the famous Nuuksio national park. Vantaa is the home to the Helsinki-Vantaa international airport. Vantaa is a travel hub and more: Finnish Science Centre Heureka is fascinating for people of all ages, and after some brain food, a visit to Jumbo shopping centre and the adjacent Flamingo spa world might be in order.

Porvoo is famous for its charming Old Town that dates back to the Middle Ages and is filled with adorable cafés, restaurants and handicraft boutiques. Nearby Loviisa is similarly beautiful with the Old Town, the Strömfors Iron Works and the Svartholma Sea Fortress being key sights. Lapland Contrasts are a key factor in the allure of Finnish Lapland where 24-hour sunlight in the summer replaces the dark winter days colored by the northern lights.

Contrasts are a key factor in the allure of Finnish Lapland. In Lapland, you can experience not four but in fact eight distinctive seasons. From warm summers filled with around-the-clock light to frosty winter days when the sun refuses to rise above the horizon and nights lit by the magical Northern Lights.

Lapland is home to perhaps the most well-known Finn – Santa Claus himself. Originally from Korvatunturi, a remote fell in Eastern Lapland near the Russian border, Santa now lives in Rovaniemi and can be met all year round. He has received over 17 million letters from all over the world since 1985. Santa couldn't do his job without his trusty reindeer. There are as many reindeer as people in Lapland, and any drive might be often interrupted by a herd of reindeer crossing the road.

This northernmost part of the EU has a number of outdoor resorts just minutes away from the peace and quiet of the wilderness. They offer unique possibilities for any kind of skiing and cycling in addition to many other outdoor activities. Lapland's winter tempts you to try out snowmobiling or sledding, while snow-free seasons are popular among hikers. During the summer and autumn, you can pick your meal straight from the wild, as the Lappish wilderness is bursting with wild herbs, mushrooms and berries, including our famous cloudberries. These bright orange berries, mostly found on swamps, are a true northern superfood.

One of the minority languages in Finland is Sámi, a group of languages spoken by the indigenous Sámi people. Their cultural region, Sápmi, covers the extreme north of Europe, including the municipalities of Enontekiö, Utsjoki, Inari and northern Sodankylä in the northern part of Finnish Lapland. Utsjoki is the only municipality with a Sámi majority, while the municipality of Inari has four official languages: Finnish, Skolt Sámi, Northern Sámi and Inari Sámi. Inari is also home to Sámi

Cultural Centre Sajos and Siida, the National Museum of the Finnish Sámi.

Alitalia's long-haul revenues

Alitalia's long-haul revenues and passenger increase continues the growth trend and the Italian airline reported in September 2019 the twenty-third consecutive month of growth.

In the ninth month of this year, Alitalia recorded on intercontinental routes 1.8 per cent increase in revenues and 3.6 per cent growth in passenger carried (267,575 travelers on long-haul flights in September), compared to the same month of 2018.

Alitalia's passenger revenues in September amounted at 259.7 euro million (-2.7 per cent compared to September 2018), despite an 11.2

per cent reduction in the domestic flights capacity, mainly due to the closure of Milan Linate airport for works on runway. In September Alitalia carried 1,951,191 passengers with 81.6% load factor, slightly increased versus the same month of the previous year.

In the first nine months of 2019, the Italian airline reported 1.4 per cent increase in passenger revenues, compared to the same nine months of 2018, thanks to the excellent performance of the intercontinental sector which, in the same period, increased by 4.3 per cent.

As of 30 September 2019, the Airline's liquidity amounted to 310 million euros (plus the deposit at IATA), compared to 361 million euros at the end of August. The reduction of 51 million euros is mainly due to the decrease in the volume of prepaid tickets, in line with the normal seasonality of the industry.

With 82.5 per cent of flights landed on schedule, Alitalia has confirmed itself as the second most punctual airline in Europe in the first nine months of 2019. The result was certified by FlightStats, the authoritative US independent society which drafts the list of the major airlines in the world for on-time performance, comparing the data of equivalent airlines for size and network.

Your serenity in travel is our priority

Desire for Authenticity

“It revives the gracious lifestyles of the princes of Rajasthan and the heritage of India.” said C P Rathore, General Manager, Chomu Palace.

• Tarsh Sharma

“Heritage Hotels represent a unique holiday staying experience.” By commenting on this C P Rathore, General Manager, Chomu Palace said “Travel is a profoundly meaningful experience, and are increasingly looking for immersive, authentic travel experiences. As travellers they don’t just want to see a place, they want to feel it. Hotel stays are not just about tightly tucked beds, mini fridges and room service anymore; they are about memorable moments that complement and enhance the travel adventure.

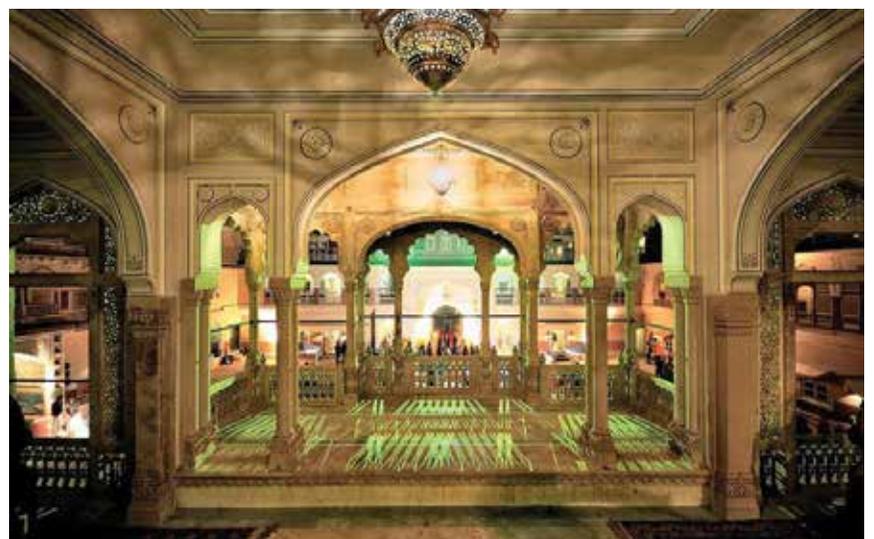

It’s clear; for hotels to appeal to the modern traveller’s desire for authenticity, and to stand out from other hotels offering all the same features and amenities, they should focus on selling an experience, not just a pretty room. In other words, a hotel should be a destination in itself. This is where boutique and other independent properties have the upper hand and position to provide memorable stay experiences that reflect their local destination, the unique character of their property, and the desires of their target demographic. All it takes is a little passion and creativity.”

While focusing on Chomu Palace as a “perfect destination weddings venue” Mr. Rathore stated “Chomu Palace truly reflects the splendor and charms of Royal Palaces of India. The historical palace hotel has become a favorite choice of accommodation for discerning travelers to the city. This heritage hotel in Jaipur reboots the royal lifestyle of erstwhile rulers of Rajasthan and stands might and proud as a fine example of the country's heritage. The architecture of this hotel is thought-out as per the styles of Vastushastra philosophy of India.”

Connects Local Habitat to the World

“We promote glamping or luxury mobile camping wherein temporary Camp set-up is created and operated at off-road locations.” – By Shruti Pandey, Founder, Synergi Hospitality Marketing.

• Vedika Sharma

Q. Shed some light on your current portfolio of hotels?

Each of the Synergi partner properties is unique in their own ways. They are off-beat in their locations and take pride in their ability to connect the guests to the character & atmosphere of that locality.

There is a lot of outdoors with safaris, treks, heritage walks, tribal & textile tours and camping options. All these properties are either Heritage hotels or are Camps, Resorts & Retreats. We promote glamping or luxury mobile camping wherein temporary Camp set-up is created and operated at off-road locations. The last such event was at Prayagraj for Ardh Kumbh where we hosted the guests from National Geographic. There are semi-constructed Camps also which we promote in Jawai and Jaisalmer sand dunes.

On a fresh note, we have also started working with a Restaurant - The Finch - in Delhi, Mumbai & Chandigarh - to serve cuisines of choice to guests while they are travelling.

Q. What sets apart Synergi hospitality from other hotel sales and marketing companies?

Synergi is all about exploring. We encourage tourism that stems out from travelling to places that are far-flung from city life and is education while it connects local habitat to the world. Each property also takes responsibility for assisting in local growth and sustainability.

Q. How has been 2018 for your company in terms of growth? (Please share facts & numbers) What are your plans and targets for 2019?

2018-19 was very good for us. We saw a jump in numbers, especially for remote locations like Jawai and Gujarat. This hike has given us a boost to push more aggressively for movement towards these locations. We have started working on creating more activities to enhance experiences.

Q. What are your plans for expansion? How are you doing your promotion in tier-II and tier-III cities?

We are already in touch with local travel agents at smaller cities like Aligarh, Nashik and Gwalior. The movements from such cities have been steadily increasing. Their choice of travel has started varying from travel to a city, now to more remote places where there is a lot of outdoors and lots of explore.

We do regular promotions in these cities as advertisements and package offer. The agents are also connected through telecalls and mails.

Q. Please share your thoughts on the growth of the hospitality industry in India?

Last season (2018-19) went well, especially with no untoward incident in the country. There has also been an increase in interest towards India, following economic and cultural exchanges. With the advent of stability, Tourism is bound to gain more. The trade is also now ready to welcome more guests as there has been an expansion in infrastructure and related services.

Q. According to you, What kind of challenges the hospitality industry is facing today?

A great challenge currently is that of quality control over services. With the expansion of service variables, there rises a lacuna of the professional team to operate these services. To train and induct more man-power and to raise a bar on service standard is very much essential.

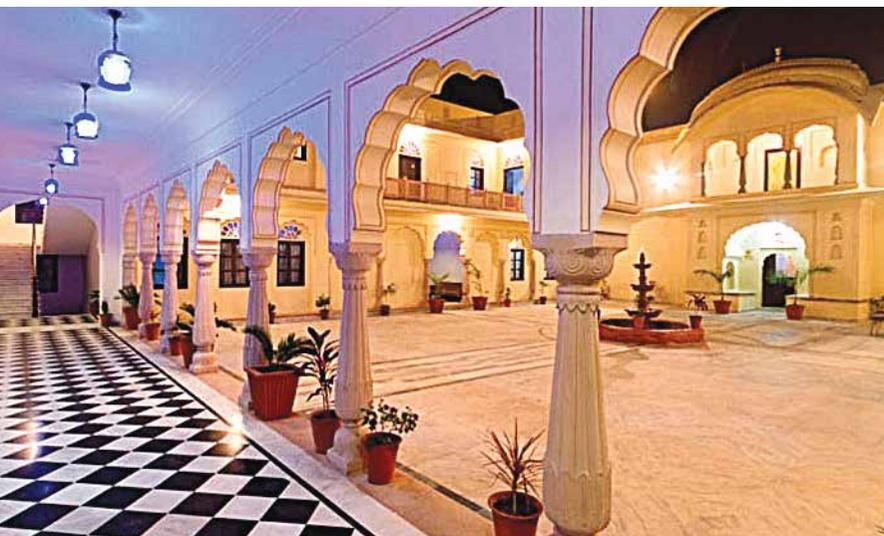

Q. Any announcements, news or anything else you would like to share?

Synergi looks forward to exploring more towards the Northern region of India. We have started with Golden Retreat Stok in Leh, a quaint Retreat near Stok Palace where guests would be able to go for long walks, hot picnic lunches and breakfast with local Ladakhi family.

We are also planning and promoting more options of experiences at all the properties we currently promote. There are options of cycling tours, hi-tea breaks, roof-top candle-light dinners, jeep & camel rides and more at all the locations.

Accor commits to equality for women leaders

The hospitality industry has evolved significantly in the past decade with more women assuming leadership roles across the globe. As the only hospitality group invited as a founding member of the United Nations' HeForShe movement, Accor has set concrete objectives to foster diversity and equality in the workplace, as well as equal pay.

The group is committed to having at least 35% women General Managers in its hotels by the end of 2020, with a longer-term goal of 50%. To date, out of 300,000 employees worldwide, 42% Heads of Department and 29% General Managers are female. In Asia Pacific, across its 1,150 hotels and resorts, the total female leaders continues to grow, currently at 25%, up by 4 points compared to previous year. With regards to equal pay, the group has targeted this for France, Spain, Brazil and Australia by 2020, with a longer-term goal to achieve equality across the entire organisation.

Accor recognises and celebrates extraordinary female talent through an international network called RiiSE. Open to both women and men, RiiSE promotes diversity and focuses on empowering both genders through a mentoring programme with 900 pairs around the world. In addition, RiiSE strives to combat stereotypes, everyday sexism and sexual harassment.

While the women leaders of Accor have taken different paths to success, their passion for the industry, a penchant for hard work and an entrepreneurial approach unite them beyond their achievements in a male-dominated field. From Indonesia to New Zealand, we showcase five amazing women and the difference they are making in the hospitality industry.

Gillian Millar, Senior Vice President Operations, Accor New Zealand, Fiji & French Polynesia

As Senior Vice President of Operations at Accor New Zealand, Fiji & French Polynesia, Gillian is responsible for 3,000 staff and 50 hotels in the region. After almost eight years with Accor, Gillian is grateful for the opportunity to sit at the table as part of Accor's Asia Pacific Executive Committee, contributing to the hospitality giant's overall strategy and vision.

She believes that her success is not of her effort alone but through the combined successes of her teams, her hotels and her regions. Motivated and inspired by their personal and commercial growth, Gillian attributes the region's accomplishments to Accor's commitment to autonomy and understanding of the need for diverse thought. She encourages all women to be brave and grab any opportunity given to them.

Modern day wellness therapies

Everyday life can really stress you out, with work, home and social life taking a toll on the body.

• Tarsh Sharma

Sadly, we are rarely able to take time off to allow our bodies to heal, rest and energize. Thankfully, modern wellness therapies target these very stress points and help reset your body, making you ready to take on the world!

Most trusted wellness resorts across India have their signature therapies that they've perfected over the years. Experienced therapists use their skill and knowledge to relieve you of your pain points and relax the muscles. We list down some of the most exciting and effective therapies that you can indulge in:

- Heliotherapy: One of the oldest and most effective therapies in naturopathy, heliotherapy is a great way to detoxify the body. It involves wrapping of plantain leaves around the body, followed by a 30-40 minutes of sun bath after applying medicated oil. A cold towel is placed on the head and you're hydrated before, so there's nothing but good vibes coming thereafter!

- Chromotherapy: Chromo therapy uses colours to restore balance and harmony within the body. Treated water is first exposed to the sun to absorb all its natural goodness. The positive electromagnetic radiation is then used to help the body heal from stress.
- Magneto Therapy: This unique treatment uses the natural magnetic powers of real magnets, to realign the body's rhythm. Magnets of varying shapes and sizes are placed all over the body to relieve pain and treat specific conditions. The result is a largely restored body balance!
- Hydrotherapy: There's nothing quite

Mr. Hemant Bagga, CEO – Fazlani Natures Nest

Wellness resorts today have evolved to cater to guests' unique lifestyle requirements. Modern issues require an array of contemporary and traditional techniques. At Amarinemedi-spa at Fazlani Nature's Nest, we offer a signature wellness experience that is completely focused on our guests' holistic recovery.

We offer authentic naturopathy, ayurvedic and international treatments for de-stressing, detox, rejuvenation, anti-aging, skin care, and beauty. All the therapies mentioned in the list are available with us. True wellness requires calmness, which is why most resorts are located in scenic places, much like Fazlani Nature's Nest is in the lap of the mountains beside a pristine lake!

like water to bring the mind, body and soul completely in sync with each other. Hydrotherapy is one of the oldest naturopathy treatments that help facilitate movement, promote health and relieve pain with the curative powers of water.

- Mud Therapy: Special medicated mud is applied on the body. This mud is from specific regions, lending special nutrients to it. This is then allowed to dry and bake under the sun, ensuring all the mud's goodness is absorbed into the skin and body, making it one of the most naturally rejuvenating therapies.

We have set a benchmark for good governance, development and faith.

The condition of farmers in the state was very bad and they were forced to commit suicide. We gave a number of schemes to the farmers. Crop loans up to Rs. 1 lakh given to 86 lakh farmers in the state were waived off and record purchase of crops was done. UP has the highest number of beneficiaries of Pradhanamntri Kisan Samman Yojna in country and 25 lakh houses were given during our tenure under PM Awas Yojna.

There has not been a single incident of riot in the state in the past two-and-half years. The dreaded criminals have

World's First SCC-ML Technology

Hyundai Motor Group announced the development of the world's first Machine Learning based Smart Cruise Control (SCC-ML), a technology that incorporates the driver's patterns into its self-driving behavior, creating a custom experience for the driver.

The technology, an industry first, incorporates artificial intelligence (AI) within the Advanced Driver Assistance System (ADAS) feature. The system is planned for implementation in future Hyundai Motor Group vehicles.

"The new SCC-ML improves upon the intelligence of the previous ADAS technology to dramatically improve the practicality of semi-autonomous features," said Woongjun Jang, VP at Hyundai Motor Group. "Hyundai Motor Group will continue the development efforts on innovative AI technologies to lead the industry in the field of autonomous driving."

Smart Cruise Control (SCC) enables an essential self-driving feature and core technology for ADAS: maintaining distance from the vehicle ahead while travelling at the speed selected by the driver.

SCC-ML combines AI and SCC into a system that learns the driver's patterns and habits on its own. Through machine learning, Smart Cruise Control autonomously drives in an identical pattern as that of the driver.

In order to operate the previous Smart Cruise Control, the driver manually adjusted driving patterns, such as the distance from the preceding vehicle and acceleration. It was impossible to meticulously fine-tune the settings to accommodate the driver's individual preferences without machine learning technology.

For instance, even the same driver may accelerate differently in high-speed, mid-speed and low-speed environments depending on circumstance, but detailed fine-tuning was not available. Therefore, when Smart Cruise Control was activated and the vehicle operated differently than they prefer, drivers, sensed the difference, resulting in a reluctance to use the technology because it made them feel anxious and unstable.

Hyundai Motor Group's independently developed SCC-ML operates as follows: First, sensors, such as the front camera and radar, constantly acquire driving information and send it to the centralized computer. The computer then extracts relevant details from the gathered information to identify the driver's patterns. An artificial intelligence technology called machine learning algorithm is applied during this process.

The driving pattern can be categorized into three parts: distance from preceding vehicles, acceleration (how quickly it accelerates), and responsiveness (how quickly it responds to driving conditions). In addition, driving conditions and speeds are considered as well.

For instance, maintaining a short distance from the preceding vehicle during slow, city driving, and further away when driving in the fast lane. Considering these various conditions, SCC-ML makes analysis to distinguish over 10 thousand patterns, developing a flexible Smart Cruise Control technology that can adapt to any driver's patterns.

The driving pattern information is regularly updated with sensors, reflecting the driver's latest driving style. In addition, SCC-ML is programmed specifically to avoid learning unsafe driving patterns, increasing its reliability and safety.

With upcoming Highway Driving Assist system that features automatic lane change assist, SCC-ML achieves Level 2.5 self-driving.

Lamborghini: Trigeneration and district heating systems

Automobili Lamborghini together with CPL CONCORDIA have been selected as a winner of the COGEN Europe Recognition Award 2019 for the Market Development for Organizations category.

COGEN Europe, the European Association for the Promotion of Cogeneration, is the cross-sectoral voice of the cogeneration industry. Each year it gives recognition to the company which has had a significant impact on the cogeneration market in Europe through outstanding performance and achievement.

The decision was made by a selected European jury, bringing together industry professionals, policymakers and representatives of the research community with a broad knowledge of the sector.

The award was delivered during a gala dinner ceremony last Thursday in Madrid, in the presence of high-level policymakers from the European Union institutions, as well as representatives of Automobili Lamborghini and CPL CONCORDIA.

The trigeneration and district heating systems have been developed in collaboration with CPL CONCORDIA and are located inside the Sant'Agata Bolognese factory.

The two trigeneration plants produce electricity, heating and cooling using natural gas. Their installed power is 2,4 MW and every year they generate about 20.000 MWh. By way of example, the amount of energy generated could meet the yearly needs of all homes in Sant'Agata Bolognese. Savings in terms of emissions will total approximately 1.640 tons of CO2 every year. The system can be converted to run on biogas in the future in order to reduce the CO2 emissions even further, by up to 11.400 tons every year.

Automobili Lamborghini is the first automotive company in Italy to utilize a district heating system. This system distributes hot water within the factory, delivered through a network of underground pipes from a biogas cogeneration plant located six kilometers from the factory. Lamborghini chose to use the energy generated by a cogeneration plant that would otherwise have been lost. The emissions saved will total approximately 1.800 tons of CO2 every year.

Ranieri Niccoli, Chief Manufacturing Officer of Automobili Lamborghini

Environmental commitment is an integral part of our strategy, and we subscribe to a strong undertaking of environmental responsibility towards our stakeholders and the area where the company operates. We are very proud to have obtained this important recognition for our trigeneration plant and district heating as they have contributed to achieve our CO2 neutral certification in 2015, as the first company in the world, through the DNV GL "Carbon Neutrality" program.

Rolls-Royce unveils new Pearl engine

Rolls-Royce unveiled the Pearl® 700, the latest addition to its Pearl engine family for business aviation.

The purpose-designed engine, the most powerful in the Rolls-Royce business jet propulsion portfolio, is the exclusive powerplant for the brand new Gulfstream G700.

With more than 3,200 business jets in service today powered by Rolls-Royce engines, the company is the world's leading engine supplier in this market. The Pearl 700 is the newest member of the state-of-the-art Pearl engine family, first introduced in 2018 and marks the seventh new civil aerospace engine introduced by Rolls-Royce over the past decade. Gulfstream's selection of the Pearl 700 to power its new flagship aircraft reaffirms Rolls-Royce's position as the leading business aviation engine manufacturer.

The Pearl 700 combines the Advance2 engine core, the most efficient core available across the business aviation sector, with a brand-new low-pressure system, resulting in an 8 per cent increase in take-off thrust at 18,250lb compared to the BR725 engine. The engine offers a 12 per cent better thrust-to-weight ratio and 5 per cent higher efficiency, while maintaining its class-leading low noise and emissions performance. The result is an engine that is highly efficient, but also able to propel customers nearly as fast as the speed of sound (Mach 0.925).

It brings together innovative technologies derived from the Rolls-Royce Advance2 technology demonstrator programmes with proven features from the Rolls-Royce BR700, today's leading engine family in business aviation. This includes a highly-efficient 51.8" blisked fan, a high pressure compressor with a market-leading pressure ratio of 24:1 and 6 blisked stages, an ultra-low emissions combustor, a 2-stage shroudless high pressure turbine and an enhanced 4-stage low pressure turbine, that is one of the most efficient and compact ones in the industry.

The engine's pioneering technology, combined with outstanding performance, supports Gulfstream's business aircraft in reaching new standards for the top end of the ultra-long-range corporate jet market. The engine has been developed at the Rolls-Royce Centre of Excellence for Business Aviation Engines in Dahlewitz, Germany, and is currently undergoing a comprehensive test programme.

Chris Cholerton, President – Civil Aerospace, Rolls-Royce, said: "Our whole team is very proud to power the very latest Gulfstream aircraft, the G700, and I congratulate the Gulfstream team on this special occasion. We are looking forward to continuing our successful partnership that started some 60 years and 4,500 engine deliveries ago with the Dart-powered Gulfstream I. The Pearl 700 is a pioneering product, that brings together our latest technology to deliver outstanding efficiency, supporting our leading position in the business aviation world."

*#MyFashion
MyTribe
to Join Hearts*

The Lotus Make-up India Fashion Week SS'20, in association with EbixCash from October 9 to 13 at the National Stadium saw an interesting grand finale.

The concept #MyFashionMyTribe presented on October 12, had veterans Anamika Khanna, Manish Arora, Rajesh Pratap Singh and Wendell Rodricks showcased on the ultimate day giving it a befitting end.

Despite their myriad styles, Anamika Khanna's ubiquitous capes and dhoti drapes, Manish Arora's kitschy yet international expressions, Pratap's heady monochromes to Wendell Rodricks free falling silhouettes each one represented the country's tradition by bridging the chasm between fantasy and functionality.

"At Lotus Make-Up we offer unique products catering to women with varied tastes, just like the four veterans selected for the finale, who dressed women with different mindsets and look at the palette of beauty not as a singular identity, but through a 3D lens," said Nitin Passi, Joint Managing Director, Lotus Herbals.

"We are thrilled to have had four legendary designers, who had chalked the map for Indian aesthetics globally gave the grand finale a classic finish. They were the leading lights whose attention to detail was unquestionable as their presentations showed how design may look diverse, but the grid remains congruous," said Chairman FDCI, Sunil Sethi.
